DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3, 5, 22 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bermes et al. (557514) or Velke et al (5004251, OR 5882020, cited by Applicant), in view of Herr (3485314).

A buttress plate shown by Herr:

Applicant in the 2nd paragraph discloses that Velke's stowable sulky are known, similarly to Bermes, having a variety of dashboard and handle assembly which also well known and Applicant incorporated Velke's & Wright, Berrios references, as listed in the Specification.

Art Unit: 3671

Herr also teaches in col. 1, ln 33-60, that a sulky, platform, trailer can be used for a mower, and further provides a spring biased latch (see fig 7, ref 132, 134, and 136) & release member (120) to receive a protruding member of the sulky/platform/trailer (ref 135) when in stowed position; and a protruding member is located approx. laterally (ref 135).

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide any of the well known, such as Bermes or Velke, mowers with varying dashboard/handle design with the teachings of spring biased latch for a sulky, in order to more easily stow away the sulky.

Art Unit: 3671

3. Claims 4, 6, 18-21, 23 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bermes et al. (557514) or Velke et al (5004251, OR 5882020, cited by Applicant), in view of Herr (3485314).

The combination references disclose the claimed invention except for a range of angles for the protruding member.

It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide any angle for the protruding member, since it has been held that discovering an optimum value of a result effective variable involves only routine skill in the art. In re Boesch, 617 F.2d 272, 205 USPQ 215 (CCPA 1980).

Response to Arguments

4. Applicant's arguments filed 3/21/2005 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. In view of the amendments made to claims 1 & 4, and addition of new claims 18-23, Examiner directs Applicant's attention to the above rejection in response to arguments presented.

Conclusion

5. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action.
